

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

imkore Launches to Provide Essential Technology, Managed Services and Expert Advisory Solutions to the Commercial Real Estate & Financial Services Industries

Proven Innovators. Trusted Advisors. Value Creators.

Fort Lauderdale, March 28, 2023 - imkore, a global company specializing in the delivery of a next generation technology, managed services and advisory platform on behalf of the world's leading commercial real estate and financial services companies, has announced its official launch. With its foundation of best-in-class products, expert resources, seasoned leadership, and international delivery capabilities, imkore is equipped to offer innovative solutions to address the essential operational challenges of its customers.

imkore was launched in January 2023 following the successful execution of acquisition agreements with Millennia Group and JDR Consulting, as well as a merger with Infinity Tribe. On its debut, imkore has established itself as the go-to partner needed to actualize the operational excellence ambitions of its customers currently comprised of 95 of the world's most revered commercial real estate and financial services companies. Detailed announcements regarding these transactions and other high impact developments will follow shortly.

Armed with a global contingent of 60 employees, imkore is led by a team of highly accomplished, veteran entrepreneurs and renowned industry experts recognized for having built many of the predominant technology and managed services platforms that continue to power the commercial real estate and financial services industries to this day.

"imkore is dedicated to delivering a cohesive array of practical, mission-critical technology and managed services solutions that tackle the critical, day-to-day operating challenges faced by our customers," stated Glenn Murray, Founder & CEO. "In line with this commitment, we will be issuing a series of announcements in the days and weeks to come regarding the release of game-changing innovations that will revolutionize the industry."

imkore has hit the ground running by acquiring tried and true technology platforms that facilitate document management, records compliance and CRE business process management. These platforms, leveraged by over 7,000 users of blue-chip firms across the commercial real estate, financial services, insurance, and other industries worldwide, will serve as the foundation for imkore's continuing innovations. The company plans to further strengthen its technology stack and delivery capabilities through additional complementary acquisitions in the coming months.

For more information about imkore and its services, please visit www.imkore.com or contact:

Colin Kovas
Founder & Managing Partner 773.495.1425
ckovas@imkore.com